

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

THE INTERNATIONAL DESIGN AUTHORITY

MARCH 2011

The Age of Elegance

All Eyes On:
Daphne Guinness

Donna Karan

Michael Smith

Art Deco's Comeback

Porsche Reinvents an Icon

AD Visits Sheryl Crow

$5.99US $6.99FOR

03>

08430

0 357076 0

1 Created by French decorator Sarah Lavoine, D. Porthault's new Photophore bed linens have a Moroccan-inspired diamond pattern hand-embroidered on 400-count cotton percale. $2,200 for a king sheet set with shams; dporthaultparis.com, 212-688-1660

2 Based on a 1930s archival design, Alfred Dunhill's Envelope business-card holder mimics a piece of mail with its embossed post-age stamp on one side and monogram seal on the other. Made of sterling silver, it can be custom engraved. $5,100; dunhill.com, 800-776-4053

3 Known for crafting highly coveted fashion accessories in exotic materials, designer Nancy Gonzalez has devised a glamorous crocodile-skin iPad case available in an array of colors, including teal, shown. $1,800 at Bergdorf Goodman; 800-558-1855

4 For ABC Carpet & Home's new Aquasilk rug collection, silk fibers salvaged from vintage Indian saris have been woven into traditional Central Asian motifs and overdyed in deep blues and greens. The carpets measure 8' x 10' and can be special ordered in custom sizes. $9,099; abchome.com, 212-674-1144

5 The Antwerp chair by Dmitriy & Co., constructed with traditional hand-tied springs and natural horsehair fill, features turned-mahogany legs with brass casters. Shown in slate Belgian linen, it comes in standard fabrics or c.o.m. and measures 39" h. x 32" w. x 44" d. From $6,300; dmitriyco.com, 212-243-4800